Dedication

We, the staff of the 1971 VINEYARDER, and the entire class of 1971, would like to think of our own yearbook as being a serious one, and something which we will value for a long, long time. To us, it will be a constant reminder of the friends, teachers, and activities we knew so well for the past four years. More importantly, though, the VINEYARDER, as we leaf through it from time to time, will help us to look forward to the day when we pursue our separate goals. We have been extremely fortunate during our high school years. Aren't they an indication of the years to come? We think so, and as a result, we dedicate this 1971 VINEYARDER to OUR FUTURE.

Here, in this small bit of space allotted to the staff, I would like to say "Thanks." It's not easy being on the staff of a yearbook — or any publication for that matter — because of crabby editors, and deadlines that always seem to come too soon. But, I'd like to say this. The members of the 1971 Vineyarder Staff have proved themselves. They've survived these hardships — and many more.

As a result, I'd like to express my greatest gratitude for their cooperation. And also, to thank, in particular, Miss Lassen, who never tired of the nasty job of proofreading, Charlotte Leonard, the best typist ever, and Leslie "Cropper" Crawford.

Class History

Four years ago the summer turned to fall as always, but one thing was different — we were the insignificant freshmen instead of the irreplaceable eighth graders. From the first day of school we thought we had nothing to worry about except graduation. How wrong we were!

From the start we were blessed with our advisors, Mrs. Leonard and Mr. Hoar (I really feel sorry for them to think what we put them through) and our freshman class president, Barbara Devine. Judy Andrade and Gary Leighton were chosen as Miss and Mr. Freshman class. Barbara was all set to get right to work and raise the funds we would need, but unfortunately, there were one hundred and twenty-three other freshmen who weren't quite as enthusiastic.

The first money raising activity was a Mother-Daughter, Father-Son basketball game. It really drew the crowds (and the money).

School let out in the spring, summer slipped by, and we were Sophomores. We felt a little more secure our Sophomore year, because the seniors had a new class to laugh about . . . and at! Gary Leighton was chosen Class president. Sally Nevin and James Ferreira were picked as Miss and Mr. Sophomore class.

Under the leadership of Gary, we had a "Mod Day," where students, and faculty, could wear anything they wanted. Some students even went as far as to paint their faces in multi-colored swirls. The whole day was really a success. We had a "Tag Day," soon after our "Mod Day," on which a student, or several students, could tag another person who would have to carry all their books . . . ALL OF THEM! And as usual we had food sales. Soon after our last sale in the spring, it was summer . . .

... and we were Juniors. Nancy Tripp was our newly elected president and Deborah Hoxsie and James Heathman were chosen Miss and Mr. Junior class. Soon after the last leaves of autumn fluttered to the ground, we were busy thinking about the spring and our prom. But before anything else, we had to raise more money. We sold Tom Wat Kits, plastic flowers, and butterflies, and, of course, we had more food sales. All too soon it was time for the initial planning of the prom: Who would be chairman? Where can we have it? What will we use as a theme? WHAT is a theme? It turned out James Heathman was elected chairman and Deborah Norton was picked as vice-chairman. The committee was chosen and we got right down to work. After several debates, arguments, and out-and-out fights we settled on the place: The Navigator Room at the Harborside Inn; and the theme: "Sunset Over Atlantis." As anyone will tell you, the hardest part of a prom is the making and/or buying of decorations. Our decorations, which consisted of two Roman statues, several Corinthian columns and a beautiful sunset mural, were made by certain talented people in our class.

The evening of May 23 descended on the Island and the especially lovely young ladies and their tuxedoed escorts descended upon the transformed Navigator Room. The queen was chosen early in the evening so she could reign over the proceedings of the night. The court was slowly picked out of the long line of girls: Carol Metell, Teresa Letourneau, Nancy Pachico, Deborah Hoxsie, Nancy Campos, and Jill Cottle. Silence fell upon the room as Marcia Rogers and Remo Fullin circled the room once, twice, and finally handed the bouquet of roses to Nancy Nevin and her escort, Michael Bernard.

As June came, it brought graduation for the class of 1970. And as we watched them marching out of the Tabernacle, we thought of how next year it would be us slowly marching out into our own individual lives.

Our Senior year finally came, and we were forced to think about our futures; but first we had to get through our Senior year. Nola Magee was elected president and under her supervision we had raised money for our graduation, senior banquet, and for the first time we had a Senior Semi-formal. Carol Metell and Robert Dickson were picked Miss and Mr. Senior Class. Work on the Yearbook started early in the year and continued on schedule. Mr. Richardson helped us fill out college applications for schools, and we were busy finding suitable jobs for kids who wanted to work. And we were also very fortunate to have had in the past year our school's first foreign exchange student — Anne Jalakas, from Sweden.

And as the shades of autumn turned to the white of winter, and then to the rebirth of spring we looked back on Mrs. Leonard, Mr. Hoar, our classmates, the faculty, and administration with laughter, tears, and . . . sometimes a hope that we could return to it all . . .

This year has been a very full one, with all the arrangements for Class Day, ordering caps and gowns, and the hours and hours of practicing for Graduation. To say the least, we have been kept rather busy.

"What should the class colors be?" "What should the class gift be and how much can we afford?" "Who do we want for Class Marshall?" "I don't like that motto. I want a revote!" These are only a few of the comments that could be heard throughout the year.

There is always so much to do in preparing for important occasions — but the butterflies and wobbly knees will be well worth it in the end when we walk across the platform and receive our long awaited diplomas. What a feeling (is it sad or glad?) to have completed thirteen years, whether considered long or short, of education.
